Three Sides of Bermuda

We invite you to explore Bermuda and its surrounding waters. To get the lay of the land, start with the island’s three main regions.

Out here, a small population (65,000 residents) makes for a strong neighbourhood identity. Each community brings with it a unique culture all its own, and a local character to match. Whether it’s the history-rich East End, still stamped by its Colonial past; the sophisticated and global capital, City of Hamilton, at the centre; or the popular sightseeing hub and maritime vestige, the West End. Bermuda is easy to get to, but a world away.

Let the locals be your guide.
East End

The Historical Anchor
A UNESCO World Heritage site formerly home to the island’s capital, the Town of St. George on the East End is rich with British Colonial history and culture. You’ll also discover many natural attractions, including Tom Moore’s Jungle and the Crystal Caves of Bermuda.

Nike Bada
Fashion & Lifestyle Blogger and Boutique Owner

“I have always loved St. George’s. It’s just a beautiful place,” said Nike Bada, who opened Merch in December 2017 on the day of the annual National Trust Christmas Walkabout. The tiny boutique, which can also be shopped online, showcases local brands and design-focused, global finds – a mix of books, jewellery, accessories and apparel – in a space built in the 1700s.

“That’s what drew me to the location in the first place; I love the juxtaposition of having something quite modern inside in a very historic setting,” she said.

The shop sits at the edge of King’s Square, the focal point for much of the activity and events, including the Portuguese Festival and the Peppercorn Ceremony. Bada has created a handy map of the area, that marks Instagrammable locations and must-see sights, including the Unfinished Church, Pilot Darrell’s House, the Tucker House Museum and the St. George’s Historical Society – and its 17th-Century printing press.

“It’s amazing to think a machine that old is still being used,” she says. “You can’t beat the atmosphere in St. George’s. You’re steeped in history. You walk the cobbled streets and it’s like you’ve gone back hundreds of years. There’s no other place like it.”
The Maritime Mainstay
A hub for sightseeing, shopping and entertainment, historic Royal Naval Dockyard is one of Bermuda’s most popular destinations. Also in the West End, you’ll find many of the renowned South Shore beaches, including Horseshoe Bay and Warwick Long Bay.

Tom Wadson
Farmer

“The best is in the west,” said Tom Wadson of his fortunate position on Luke’s Pond Road. “Whale Bay is three minutes away. My boat is on the other side in a protected bay. I can walk over there in 10 minutes.”

Following a childhood dream, he became a farmer in the fall of 1976 and now has more than 2,500 chickens and turkeys as well as some Bermuda hogs on 40 acres. The shop attracts many visitors looking for fresh, local food and farm tours can be arranged by appointment.

“There’s so much more contact now between the food and the people. That’s so important,” he said. An advocate for fertilizer-free, clean and natural farming methods on the island, he never tires of Bermuda’s profound natural beauty.

“I spend a lot of time in a lot of open space. I love the ocean. I love the land and I’m very passionate about what I do. Of all the places I’ve ever been, Bermuda is my favourite. To be able to farm in a place like this and to live in a place like this – I’m not interested in going anywhere else,” he said.

“Why travel? We’re already there.”
Central Bermuda is home to the colourful capital, City of Hamilton, a harbour town known for its blend of global sophistication and local flavour. Enjoy dining, shopping, nightlife and the island’s most cosmopolitan culture, and find great beaches, gardens and golf nearby.

Peter Lapsley
Executive Director of The Bermuda National Gallery,
Artist and Co-owner, & Partners

“Hamilton has a broad range of things. You’ve got good food, interesting art and shops sourcing interesting and unique things. If you can’t find something to do, then you’re not looking particularly hard,” said Peter Lapsley.

The artist spends his days in the capital since moving back from New York. In a short time, he opened & Partners, a gift and design store, and took on a leadership role at The Bermuda National Gallery, sharing its mission to bring in international artists and artworks while supporting the development of local artists.

“It’s a great piece to the local arts puzzle,” he said of the gallery. “We have our historical collections, but also contemporary works – local artists making work now.”

With six shows a year alongside its permanent collections, the gallery invites art lovers to see up to three different exhibitions in one visit and then wander upstairs to the Bermuda Society of Arts. With the Bermuda Musical & Dramatical Society and commercial Gallery 117, Hamilton makes a great destination for visitors interested in the arts.

“You can see a print by Andy Warhol, a sculpture by KAWS, a painting by Gainsborough, as well as contemporary artists making work in Bermuda now.” he said.

“Go to Marcus’, have lunch, then wander round and see the impressive collection at Hamilton Princess.”

Getting Around

Whether by bus, bike, ferry or taxi, Bermuda is safe and easy to explore. Public transport is a great way to get a taste of Bermuda’s welcoming culture. Rent a bike or two-seater and zip around to hidden gems.

Four scenic ferry routes connect major island hubs.
The blue and green routes head west; the pink stops in central Paget and Warwick; the orange operates in summer and connects Dockyard to the Town of St. George. All depart from the Ferry Terminal on Front Street in the City of Hamilton. Cash is not accepted, so have your transportation pass, ticket or token ready.

Taxis provide transportation and sightseeing by the hour.
Many taxi drivers are also excellent tour guides, eager to share the stories behind Bermuda’s landmarks for $50-$70 USD per hour. Find them outside larger hotels, near the airport or on busy streets.

Pink buses are plentiful and frequent.
Colour coded stops make it easy – pink to town (Hamilton), blue to head out (east or west). Tickets, tokens or transportation passes are available at bus or ferry terminals. Or board with exact change.

Rent electric cars to explore at your leisure.
These compact two-seaters, available from Current Vehicles and Oleander Cycles, can travel up to 70 miles on a single charge.

Explore like a local on a scooter or bicycle.
We drive on the left and we drive slowly – the official speed limit is 21 miles per hour. Bikes can be rented from Elbow Beach Cycles, Eve’s Cycle Livery, Oleander Cycles and Smatt’s Cycle Livery.

Right on Course: A New Bermuda Triangle

Founded by shipwrecked sailors, Bermuda’s maritime history is woven into the very fabric of the island. Four centuries later, the island remains a top sailing destination thanks to its ideal weather, calm, clear waters and unbreakable ties with the international sailing community. This spring, Bermuda joins forces with New York and Newport to create a new Bermuda Triangle of sailing, luxury and lifestyle with premier sailing events that beckon sailors and travellers to hop from port to port.

The island’s legacy of sailing goes back centuries, when Bermuda was founded by the survivors of the shipwrecked Sea Venture in 1609. We revolutionized sailing with the Bermuda rig, which is still used in 95 percent of all sailing yachts today. Visible from the dizzying heights of Gibb’s Hill Lighthouse as well as Fort Scaur and Royal Naval Dockyard, Bermuda’s Great Sound set the stage for the 35th America’s Cup in 2017 and the 635-mile biennial Newport Bermuda Race, the oldest reoccurring ocean race.

But sailing is only part of our shared story – our architecture, arts and culture, cuisine, coastline and lively communities set us apart as a world-class destination.

Dishing on the Destination

Out here, what sets this island country apart (besides the fact that it’s 650 miles from Cape Hatteras, North Carolina) is the warmth, pride and diversity of Bermudians. Its 65,000 residents make up a welcoming, eclectic swirl of cultures drawing from English, African, Caribbean, Portuguese and Native American heritage. Their influence is reflected in everything from customs (proper politeness like saying good morning to everyone) to food, which includes a mash-up of Creole spices and proper English dishes as well as Portuguese donuts.

From fishcakes to rum cake, you’ll taste the various ethnic influences in restaurants and markets island-wide.

With 75 miles of stunning coastline, you’re never far from the ocean. A fish lover’s dream, the seas around Bermuda are brimming with grouper, hogfish, wahoo and snapper, and the daily catch is a staple on every menu. Restaurants such as Marcus’, Island Brasserie and Bella Vista pride themselves on their close links with local fishermen. As nothing goes to waste, the bones are boiled down in a classic Bermuda fish chowder enjoyed with a splash of Black Seal Rum and Outerbridge’s Original Sherry Peppers.

On land, Bermuda’s food is equally fresh. Spring arrives with the first buds of wild freesias. Bermuda roses and oleanders then bloom, followed closely behind by the iconic Easter lilies, calla lilies and the Bermudiana, our national flower. The days become longer; the citrus trees bloom – the lemons and oranges are a rare treat. The trails are covered with lantana, a kind of local sage, and fresh, wild rosemary – the perfect pairing for traditional roast lamb at Easter and Sunday brunches island-wide. Try Fourways Inn, Aqua Terra at the Reefs and Rotisserie Grill in Smith’s.

Two major staples of Easter cuisine are codfish cakes and hot cross buns. Not unusual seasonal fare, except they are served together as a sandwich spread with a little mayonnaise or hot sauce. The savoury-sweet combination is a signature quality of the Bermudian palate. Those with Portuguese heritage also bake egg bread – a traditional, sweet Easter dish with a whole boiled egg hidden in the centre. Buy it fresh at the Portuguese Bakery on Addendum Lane.

Browse the farmers’ market at the Bermuda Botanical Gardens for jars of local preserves and chutney, fresh produce, home-baked goods and Bermuda-made gifts. Spiced popcorn and seasonal soups are also on the table on Saturdays from 8 am to 12 pm. Head to Village Pantry, Marée or Huckleberry for season-focused menus.
Fancy Cookies, from $3.75
Expertly decorated and exceptionally delicious, Tuck Shop’s Fancy Cookies use an old family recipe to show off their colourful Bermuda designs, from seashells to giant Gombey dancers.

→ Tuck Shop, Middle Road, Southampton

Dr. Smith’s Hot Sauce, $12
Bring some Bermuda heat to your home cooking. This local institution is famed for its fish sandwich, but it would be nothing without the house-made hot sauce.

→ Art Mel’s Spicy Dicy, St. Monica’s Road, Pembroke

Umami Spice, $10
Blended in small batches and packed in 100-percent biodegradable cellophane bags, Rinelle Elizabeth’s Umami Jerk is a classic blend of allspice and peppers tempered with a bit of sweetness.

→ Long Story Short, Water St., St. George’s

Tucker’s Farm Goat Cheese, $8
James Tucker makes cheese with his own hands from his farm kitchen on Hungry Bay. This creamy, chevre-style is a great place to start; it’s even better drizzled with Bermuda honey.

→ The Supermart, Front St., Hamilton

Gombey Pepper Jam, from $10
Try Bermuda Jam Factory’s Hot, Ginger or Honey Pepper Jams. Their sweet-spicy lineup adds life to cheese, grilled meat, fish, sandwiches and cocktails.

→ The Phoenix Store, Reid St., Hamilton
